There's never a good time for an angel to pay you a visit.

Honestly, it's rather difficult to be reverent and genuflect when you just finished making love to your wife.

And for the record, I hate that I just said, "make love"

Like I'm friekin' Dorothy Zbornak or something.

DAUGHTER OF MANASSEH,
YOU ARE ANOINTED!

Who me?

FE FERNANDEZ
LUZ DE SANTOS,
YOU HAVE BEEN CALLED.

I will say, however,
that if an angel had to
interrupt my honeymoon,
I'm pretty stoked that it was a female one.

Despite the unwelcome boudoir intrusion, it took all the strength I had not to leap up, cheer, and high-five her.

'Bout darn time we got some lady power up in here!

Alright, we're here.

And after curfew too, so this better be important -

President Allred.

Perfect timing, Elders.

Perfect timing for?

The lions shall no longer lay down with the lamb.

The lions shall devour the lamb.

To be the lions, my dear servants.

Now step forward and be ordained, for you are called to a higher law, a most sacred calling to feast on he who threatens the Gospel truth.

I'm well aware that all the anti-gay jerks think homosexuals are all about the sex.

Like we're defined purely by our sex life, driven by it.

I'm more than just the sex I have. Usually.

But what am I supposed to do when my husband is as damn hot as mine is?

It's not my fault I want him in me, on me, all over me, is it?

Whatcha doin'?

I'm still doing research on that Cain Enterprises company you mentioned.

There's virtually zero-to-no info on who actually runs the company. And pretty much nothing on what they do. Just a bunch of marketing doublespeak that means nothing.

Weird, right?

Totally.

Have I mentioned today that I love you?

You may have, but I'm not opposed to hearing it again.
